

CSCI-430 : Server-Side Web Development

This course covers servers-side web application development. Students will learn to set up a development server and develop web application servers that incorporate database connectivity and user authentication, and that provide RESTful APIs. Topics also include web protocols and security issues. Offered alternate years.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

CSCI-220; DSA-230

Term Offered

Spring Only

Session Cycle

S