

PWR-324 : Special Topics in Writing

Covers topics pertaining to writing in twenty-first-century modes and environments. Study of models and theoretical approaches combined with practical experiences enable students to develop written expression in the focus area. May take more than once for credit if the topic is different each time. Possible topics include creative nonfiction, science and nature writing, sports writing, humor writing, biography.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

FILA-150 or FILA-350EW; ENG-110

Term Offered

Fall Only

Session Cycle

F