

Time Limit for Completing a Graduate Degree

All graduate studies must be completed no later than six years after initial program matriculation. A student unable to complete a degree in the aforementioned timeline must submit a request to the program director and division head explaining the circumstances surrounding the request of extension. All requests will be evaluated on an individual basis and may not result in the ability to waive the time limit for completion of a graduate degree.