

ECON-320 : Labor Economics

Analysis of labor market supply and demand, wages and salaries, collective bargaining, discrimination, and macroeconomic implications of labor market issues. Prerequisite: ECON-200 or ECON-210 Offered alternate years: 2022-2023

Credits 3

Prerequisites

Take ECON-200 or ECON-210

Term Offered

Fall Only

Session Cycle

F

Grade Scheme

BC